AN ALL DAY BATTLE

The Japanese, Numbering 200, 000 Men, Attacked the Russians at Liao Yang.

KUROPATKIN HAS SAME NUMBER.

Reports Credit the Japs With Having About 1,200 Guns and Many Mountain Batteries.

Official News From Front Says There Was Desperate Fighting on the Southern Center All Day Tuesday—Results Unknown.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—The great battle of Liao Yang, which began early Tuesday morning, raged throughout the day with increasing intensity, but up to this hour no further official details beyond the two brief telegrams given out in the afternoon have been received by the war office.

Every confidence is expressed in Gen. Kuropatkin's ability to meet the Japanese assault on ground of his own choosing, but the city is hungry awaiting news of the progress of the fight.

The Japanese forces engaged in this battle can only be estimated here, but they are believed to number 200,000 men.

Gen. Kuropatkin is known to have six army corps, besides 147 squadrons of cavalry in which great confidence is reposed, bringing up the Russian total to about the same number that the Japanese have.

How the armies compare with regard to artillery is not definitely known, though throughout the war the Japanese have shown great preference for this arm and skill in its use.

Reports from the front credit the Japanese with having about 1,200 guns and many mountain batteries and it is known that they recently shipped 24 heavy guns to Yinkow. Four of these guns already have been mentioned in these dispatches as being in action.

Gen. Kuropatkin, in addition to his field batteries, has a number of very heavy guns emplaced at important positions at Liao, where the Russians have been strongly fortifying for some time.

The Japanese claim to have captured two field batteries during the past two days. Russian official accounts admit the loss of only six guns.

It is stated that a Japanese battery was captured south of Anshanshan during the preliminary fighting and that several Japanese guns have been destroyed since then.

Little of the strategic situation has developed thus far. Official news from the front says that there was desperate fighting on the southern center, while from information from other sources it appears that the Japanese are endeavoring to turn the Russian right from the neighborhood of the junction of the Taitse and Sakhe rivers. The fighting on the western flank appears to have approached within three miles of Liao Yang.

Liao Yang, Aug. 31.—A Russian correspondent supplies the following:

"The historical moment has arrived and the battle of Liao Yang is in progress.

"It was not 6 o'clock Tuesday morning when the first gun was fired, but soon afterwards hundreds of cannon were thundering along our southern and eastern fronts. The center of our position is located near the famous tower of Liao Yang, about seven miles to the southeast. The fighting there was of the most desperate character, but is now going on near at the flanks. The hissing of shells is distinctly audible, and from the city it is easy to see the shells bursting.

"Heavy guns were brought into action by both sides Tuesday, and their dull roar was discernible above the sharper detonation of field and mountain guns. The Russians are using big ordnance, which is in position in the inner ring of the Liao Yang forts. The noisy Chinese population has suddenly become quiet. The main street of Liao Yang, always the scene of the busiest traffic and usually resounding with thousands of shrill voices from sunrise to sunset, is now as silent as if it were night. The inhabitants are watching the distant battle from the houses and watch towers or are wandering gloomily in the streets. We are asking ourselves if the tide of battle is going to swamp the city, what is to become of the houses and other property?"

Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 31.—Henry Stewart Tuesday afternoon shot and killed his wife and then killed himself. The tragedy followed Stewart's fruitless plea to his wife to return to him, she having begun suit for divorce.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED.

Attempt to Enforce Blue Laws Caused a Riot in Allegheny, Pa.

Pittsburg, Aug. 31.—The crusade carried on by the Allegheny County Sabbath Observance association for the past three weeks to enforce the blue laws of 1794 resulted in riot and murder in Allegheny Tuesday night. The man who was killed was identified at midnight as Harry D. Knox, driver of an ice wagon.

The enforcement of the old laws which prohibit the sale on Sunday of ice, soda water, candy, cigars and every other article of merchandise called a luxury, has aroused intense feeling throughout the county and many threats have been made against the prosecutors. Tuesday night Chief Detective for the Association P. T. Gamble and two of his force, Nelson C. and Harry W. Starkey, were on trial for perjury, the charge being that they had secured the conviction of a storekeeper who proved that his store had not been opened for business on Sunday. About 1,000 persons had gathered about the aldermen's office and when the hearing was concluded the mob made a rush for the detective.

Gamble was knocked down and rendered unconscious for a time, while the other detectives were roughly handled. Some time later the detectives left the office under escort of the aldermen's constables and the crowd renewed hostilities.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

Wife of a Traveling Salesman Held On Suspicion.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Milton J. Sternberger, a traveling salesman, was the victim of a mysterious shooting affair here and he is in a dying condition at a local hospital. His wife is being held by the police pending an investigation. Sternberger was packing a grip and, it is alleged, asked his wife for a pistol which he had given her. The woman claimed that in a scuffle for possession of the weapon it was accidentally discharged, inflicting what is supposed to be a fatal wound in the back of the man's head.

Investigation showed that Sternberger had been wounded three times and as three shots were fired from the revolver, Mrs. Sternberger was taken in charge by the police.

WHITAKERS AND ALTIZERS.

Disastrous Fight Between the Two Families Near Tazewell, Va.

Tazewell, Va., Aug. 31.—A disastrous fight occurred between the Whitakers and Altizers, on Indian creek, on the border of West Virginia, about 15 miles north of here. As a result Noah Altizer is dead, Lee Whitaker seriously injured, Bill Whitaker shot through the body with slight chance of recovery, and John Stanton, a sympathizer of the Altizers, seriously injured.

The trouble occurred at a meeting of the Hard Shell Baptists and Seventh Day Adventists, with whom the Whitakers and Altizers affiliated.

The services were in progress when some one fired a shot and a general fusillade began with the result named. The Whitakers and Altizers have been enemies for 30 years.

ARMY MANEUVERS

Gen. Corbin Fixed September 10 as the Date For Holding the Final Review.

WELLINGTON, VA., IS THE PLACE.

The Review of the 25,000 Troops is to be a Spectacular Feature of the Encampment.

War Department Decides That Militia When Participating in Field Instructions With Regulars Are Not in the U. S. Service.

Headquarters Camp, Gainesville, Va., Aug. 31.—Gen. Corbin Tuesday fixed September 10 as the date for holding the final review of the 25,000 troops to participate in the annual maneuvers of the army, and Wellington, Va., as the place for holding the review. This decision was reached after the broad, sloping acres adjoining the railroad track at Wellington had been inspected by the general, accompanied by Col. Knight, a member of his staff. The inspection trip was made in an automobile and the headquarters of Gen. Grant at Manasas was visited before the return was made to headquarters camp.

The review is to be a spectacular feature of the maneuvers and great preparations are making by the Southern railway to transport large crowds from Washington and the east.

The inspection trip to division camp No. 1 was entirely satisfactory. Gen. Corbin is laying special emphasis on the lesson to be learned by the militiamen regarding proper camp sanitation, the detrainment and entrainment of troops, and the proper laying out of the tented fields.

The trackage facilities provided at each of the camps furnish an excellent opportunity for the study of transportation facilities, and this object lesson is not to be overlooked as a part of the benefit of the maneuvers.

Tuesday troops of cavalry and companies of infantry were everywhere present in the maneuver zone. These practice marches are being made a part of the daily program of the two camps. In the meantime the staff and brigade officers of both Gens. Grant and Bell are familiarizing themselves with the roads and lay of the country for strategic purposes.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The war department, on the request of Gen. Corbin, commanding the troops at maneuvers in Virginia, has rendered an opinion in the matter of jurisdiction over the national guard organizations, holding that the militia troops when participating in the encampment maneuvers and field instruction with troops of the regular army are not in the service of the United States within the meaning of the militia act and that discipline in the militia is to be enforced through state authority.

SENATOR W. A. CLARK.

He Was Attacked By Joe Peg on the Street at Missoula, Mont.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 31.—United States Senator W. A. Clark was attacked here Tuesday by a man known on the streets as Joe Peg, who thought the senator had been breaking the game laws and was carrying a grouse in his pocket, and who threatened to take the senator's life. Peg followed the senator several blocks, persistently calling upon him to hand over the grouse. Senator Clark ran panting into the lobby of the Florence hotel and demanded protection. He was sure that Peg had a gun, for several times the latter had made motions to pull it, and threatened to shoot unless the senator would give up his game bird.

Several persons sprang to his assistance and the man was overpowered.

NEGRO LYNCHED.

He Was Put to Death By a Mob and Body Thrown Into the River.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 31.—Joe Bumpass, a Negro, was lynched by a mob here early Tuesday morning as a result of an attempt to criminally assault Catherine Clay, a 15-year-old girl, in this county Monday. It is supposed the Negro's body was thrown into the river, but it has not yet been recovered.

The mob was composed of a large number of men, but the officials have not yet been able to learn the identity of any of them.

The attempted assault occurred Monday afternoon when the girl, who had been sent on an errand, was walking through the corn field, five miles from the city. The Negro jumped out and grabbed her, but she succeeded in wrenching herself free and made her way back to the home of her uncle, whom she informed of the assault. Her uncle immediately summoned his son and several friends and set out to search for the Negro, who was found just across the line, in Hickman county. He was captured and brought to jail here. The jailer was away at the time the prisoner arrived, but came home at night.

About 1 o'clock Tuesday morning the jailer, who sleeps near the prison, was called to the window by several men, who told him they had a prisoner for him. Finally, after much persuasion and being shown a prisoner apparently safely bound and in charge of several men, he appeared. He had no sooner reached the street when the supposed prisoner was released and the demand was made for the keys of the jail. Then the jailer saw that he was surrounded by a large number of men. He begged the members of the mob to allow justice to take its course, but his entreaties were useless, and, seeing resistance could accomplish nothing, he gave up the keys.

The mob then rushed to the cell of the Negro and began shooting at him, but were finally persuaded to desist by the jailer. Then they broke open the cell and tying a rope around Bumpass' neck, dragged the almost unconscious Negro to the river, where they placed him on a flatboat and proceeded about 100 yards down stream. In about 15 minutes they returned, and getting into their buggies drove quietly away. Not a word was said as to what was done with the Negro, but it is supposed that they threw him into the river.

It Was Won by Thomas J. Hicks, Who is the First American to Win This Event.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—The Olympic Marathon race, the third foot race contest of the kind ever held and the first ever held on American soil, participated in by 31 men classed among the fleetest runners of the world, was won Tuesday by Thomas J. Hicks, of Cambridge, Mass., who is the first American to win this event, celebrated in the revival of Olympic games. Albert J. Corey, of Chicago, a native born Frenchman, crossed the goal line second, and A. L. Newton, of New York, crossed third. The distance of the race was 40 kilometers, equal to 24 miles and 1,500 yards.

This distance was run by Hicks in the officially announced time of 3 hours, 28 minutes and 53 seconds; Corey, 3 hours 34 minutes and 16 seconds; Newton, 3 hours 47 minutes and 33 seconds.

The first Olympic Marathon race was held at Athens, Greece, in 1896 and won by Loues, a Greek, in 2 hours and 55 minutes; the second Olympic Marathon race was held in Paris in 1900, and won by Teate, of France, in 2 hours and 59 minutes. The winner of Tuesday's race received a cup presented by President Francis, of the exposition, and an Olympic championship gold medal, the second a silver medal and the third a medal of bronze.

Fred Lorg, of New York city, was the first runner to cross the goal line, but he was immediately disqualified on the charge that he had ridden about three miles in an automobile in traversing the course over the country roads. Lorg readily admitted that he had done so because of physical exhaustion for a time.

There were thousands of spectators in the stadium amphitheater to witness the start. The threatening day had cleared and the sun shone brightly. Forty runners had been entered in the race but only 3

LIVELY COMPETITION

Promised For This Year's Tobacco Crop.
Louisville Warehousemen Have Inspectors in Field.

[Louisville Herald.]

The Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company has during the past few days sent twenty-five or thirty men to the tobacco growing districts of the State to inspect the crops with a view of locating the best fields and securing information relative to the condition of the crops and to make arrangements with a view to a subsequent purchase of the tobacco in the fields.

This is said to be the preliminary skirmish in the warfare that is to be waged against the Continental Tobacco Company in the purchase of the tobacco from the growers in the fields at private sale. The warehouse people, it is said, are preparing to enter into competition with the Continental people in earnest, and a lively warfare is expected among the purchasers in the tobacco growing districts this season.

The tobacco crop is now being cut and the harvest will be in progress for the next thirty days. It is believed that by the time the harvest is completed a large portion of the crop will have been contracted for by one or the other of the warehousing factions of purchasers.

OUTRAGEOUS CONDUCT

On Part of Some Local Members of State Guards—Squire George T. Beckett Badly Beaten.

Squire Geo. T. Beckett formerly of Fleming County, who travels for some machine company, was assaulted Tuesday afternoon in the St. Charles saloon by some member or members of the local company of State Guards and was badly beaten about the head and face. Mr. Louis Mace of Cincinnati who was in the saloon at the time was also assaulted and struck once or twice in the face, but escaped with a few bruises.

It is known that Grover Purdon is the guard who struck Mace, as he followed the latter out on the sidewalk and was seen to strike him. Mr. Mace says the same party who hit him was the one who struck Beckett.

Beckett and Mace claim the assault was entirely without provocation on their part, and Mace was so indignant at the outrageous treatment that he tried for some time to procure a gun, with the express intention of shooting his assailant. Fortunately, people refused to let him have a pistol, otherwise there would undoubtedly have been more serious trouble.

Several guards were in the saloon at the time, but they claim they don't know who assaulted Beckett. Chief Donovan and Policeman Ryan arrested Purdon for the assault and also later arrested Tom Hickman, another one of the guards, on charge of being drunk and disorderly. The cases were set for investigation in the Police Court at 9 o'clock this morning.

People who witnessed the trouble are highly indignant over the outrageous conduct of the guards.

Rooms for visitors to World's Fair, half block to direct car line; ten minutes ride to grounds. Rooms $1 to $2 for each person. Breakfast if desired. 315 N. Boyle ave (Forty-third st).
